THE NEW INSPECTOR.

The Northwest Territories Gazette of the 16th inst. contains the official notice of an order-in-council appointing Principal Calder to the position of Public School Inspector. That this appointment will be viewed with favor throughout the Territories is beyond a question. Mr. Calder has been actively connected with educational matters since coming to the Territories in 1891. He is eminently qualified for the position to which he has been appointed. In his university career he acquitted himself creditably and graduated with honors. In public and high school work both in Manitoba and the Territories he has always been highly successful and an authority on educational methods. Of late years his services have been in demand in the examination of candidates for teachers' certificates and in this respect he has proved himself a just and impartial examiner. Mr. Calder received an excellent normal training under Principal Goggin in the Manitoba Provincial normal school, and this, with his experience as a successful high school teacher, will make him specially qualified to take charge of such normal school work as may fall to his lot as Inspector.

Mr. Calder received his early education in the public schools of Winnipeg and the Collegiate Institute of the same place. In 1885 he commenced his university work and graduated in 1888 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts. In the fall of the same year he commenced his normal work. In 1889 and 1890 he was principal of the High School at Manitou, Man., and in 1891 received the appointment he is now leaving. During his three years residence in Moose Jaw he has fulfilled his duties faithfully and the present high state of efficiency of our school work is in a great measure due to his painstaking efforts.

What Inspector Calder's record may be in his new sphere is something that the future alone can reveal, but if he bring to the teaching of teachers the energy and address which has characterized his career as an educator of youth, he will soon demonstrate to the educational department and to the people of the Territories his admirable fitness for the position to which he has been called.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A good suggestion comes from a correspondent of the Moose Jaw Spectator. Writing about the importance of killing gophers on their first appearance he says: "It is well known that there is a lot of vacant lands belonging to different companies, where the gophers can still have full sway. Why not put our shoulder to the wheel and exterminate the pest? After all we are but going half-way when we just poison what gophers there are on our own lands. There is a day called Arbor Day, when every man is supposed to plant his trees; could there not also be a "Gopher Day," say early in the Spring, when the gophers can be seen? Let every farmer and company cause a man to go over say one section of land and spend the day in trying to exterminate the pest, and let everybody do his share."

In the Commons on Monday Mr. Davin introduced a bill to amend the North West Territories act by removing all doubts as to the power of the courts to fix fees for registrars and providing that a judge who tries a case shall not sit in appeal.

Mr. Martin has moved for a return respecting half-breed land patents. He said that much inconvenience had been caused by the non issue of patents to persons who had bought half breed claims. Mr. Daly contends that speculators in Winnipeg and not farmers were chiefly interested in the matter.

BOHARM JOTTINGS.

Boharm is still booming. She is now well started into another busy season, but seeding has been checked for a few days owing to the snowstorm on Monday last. Seeding is well under way in this district, and next week, if fine, will finish the wheat sowing.

Farmers in this district have been preparing for the coming season since last fall in various ways. Some have got tired of hatching and have taken into partnership for life one of the gentler sex, with the full intention of making a future together or die in the attempt. But one or two could not conveniently get apliced just now, but a good crop this year may work wonders in Boharm before another year has passed over our heads.

Mr. Fred Green is to be with us here this summer. His house is well on the way to completion.

We are glad to see Mr. Wm. Anderson in our midst again, he has been in Prince Albert during the winter. Mr. Anderson is not favorably impressed with that country as a farming country, and he says Boharm seems more like home to him than any place he has seen.

Mr. Fred Fowler has purchased the Pinto team of Jas. Cline, Moose Jaw; price paid $200.00.

The three horses killed on the track here some 5 or 6 weeks ago have lately been identified as the property of Mrs. Latham.

The young lady that was thrown on the cart wheel two weeks ago was not able to be out on Sunday, but should the cart call around on Sunday next she thinks she will be able to try it again.

Miss Mary Fowler arrived here last Saturday. She is to superintend the household duties for her brother for this summer.

By all appearances last year's crops did not have a very soothing effect on Boharm Mite. He is now conspicuous by his absence. His son has come to take his place on the farm, but we will miss his sonorous voice from the choir very much this year. Our tenor and bass has now left us. Chorus: "Who'll be the next?"

Our dressmaker, it was thought some time ago, was going to introduce Drapery as a style, but a friend has succeeded in changing her mind in that direction, she choosing rather to be a Fowler than a Draper.

Last Thursday evening a large party met at the residence of Mr. James Porter as a surprise and a very enjoyable evening was spent in games, readings, recitations and singing. The party broke up about 12 o'clock.

A musical and literary entertainment will be held at Boharm some time in May under the auspices of the Ladies Aid.

THE NEFF CASE.

The Hamilton Doctors are Puzzled about the Remarkable cure —They could not cure this case of Kidney disease, but DODD'S Kidney Pills have done so.

HAMILTON, April 16.—The doctors of this city are showing great interest in a remarkable cure reported from Port Colborne. Harvey H. Neff, of the latter town, had an aggravated form of kidney disease, consequent on an attack of typhoid fever. Physicians could not cure the kidney disorder, but Mr. Neff has regained his health after taking five boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy in pill form ever offered the public. Its wonderful success in curing all forms of kidney disease has led to the introduction of numerous cheap and worthless imitations. Purchasers, for their own safety, should insist on getting Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Better Terms for the Territories.

OTTAWA, April 18.—The members of the Commons and Senate representing the Northwest Territories, held a lengthy interview with the premier and Mr. Daly, with reference to Territorial affairs. The premier intimated that he desired to meet the requirements of the Territories in a generous spirit, providing the finances of the Dominion would justify such policy. Ultimately, he consented to a supplemental vote for the general elections under the ballot, and an increase for school purposes; the amount of the annual grant to be voted direct and not subject to audit at Ottawa, and an amendment to the Territorial act, giving the assembly power to redistribute the constituencies, adding five members to the present representation, making the number 31, the indemnity to be decreased to $400 for each member. It is now $500. He also promised to consider the appointment of a law clerk to supervise the ordinances.

A Serious Accident.

Thos. O'Neill, the well known Erie Section Foreman, met with a painful and serious accident near Martel, last month, which will lay him up for some time.

He stepped about six feet from the track as a freight train passed by, and was struck on the leg, about three inches below the knee, by a piece of iron, breaking both bones, causing what is termed a compound comminuted fracture, and tearing and bruising the flesh and muscles in a bad manner.

What force propelled the piece of flying iron from the train is unknown, but it is supposed that the piece became detached from a car and in striking a revolving car wheel was shot off in a straight hurl as from a cannon, and struck Mr. O'Neill's leg.—Galion Daily Enquirer.

Under the Ban.

About a year ago the Canadian Review, a French newspaper published in Montreal, published a continued story that was on the Index. The archbishop requested him to kill the balance of the story. This the editor refused to do, and hinted in an editorial that it was in his power to put the archbishop on to several spicy scandals connected with the priesthood. The Archbishop immediately asked him to do so and the editor refused on the grounds that he could not secure the permission of his conferees. He continued the publication of the story, the Archbishop put the paper under the ban of interdiction and its circulation fell considerably. The Review is now suing the Archbishop for damages.

J. W. Case, a farmer living on sec. 32 15-24, dug a well recently and struck water at a depth of 111 feet. From the surface of the ground a depth of 40 feet was through ordinary clay. Nine feet of light sand was then struck and then followed another nine feet of still lighter sand. A seam of hard sand four feet in depth was then penetrated. Nine feet of blue clay lay under this. Sand and gravel was next struck and as the spade went deeper the sand disappeared and for several feet nothing but gravel and small stones were found until water was struck. At the depth of 97 feet Mr. Case struck a large bone perfectly preserved. It has the appearance of the front shank bone of a large quadruped. Some of the stones upon being broken disclose fossils and these with the bone will be sent to the geological survey department at Ottawa.

ALL AROUND THE HOUSE.

A Few Simple and Easily Made Decorations for the Holidays.

Holly and mistletoe are the historic Christmas foliage, and they have established the colors for holiday decorations—green, white and red. Boughs and chains of cedar gracefully festooned over corners are very generally used. Ground pine is exceedingly effective when it can be obtained.

When holly berries for brightening up the green holiday trimmings are not procurable, a good substitute is rustic coral. Mix two drachms of vermillion in an ounce of resin and paint this over some pretty large twigs. Let them over a stove, turning them round all the while, until the resin is thoroughly dry. The berries will then be of a rich red color, and you have an excellent substitute for the real berries.

To make festooning of evergreens, leave the evergreens cut into small boughs and lay them on the floor where a stool, and lay a stretched-out thread a packing needle with small twigs, and with this thread the twigs to the cord, making all safe and strong by occasionally passing the twine through the cord. Work in your holly in patches, so that the effect of the ruddy berries shall not be lost by sparseness, but in trimming with them and chains after this are woven, you had better err on the side of thinness, if at all. Heaviness in such decoration is certain to be gloomy.

Spider's webs of gold or silver wire introduced among the green are novel and quite pretty.

A little glass or diamond powder sprinkled on here and there gives a beautiful frosted effect, but should not be within reach of children.

Very much can be done with gold and silver paint in getting up tasteful decorations. Fine cones and sprays the latter laid in bunches, dried and silvered and used the same as berries and spruce twigs, look well. Devices associated with good luck and merriment are a well, a wishbone, a horseshoe, a cornucopia of corn, covered with greenery and gold and ornamented with clusters of white immortelles.

Archibald Ferguson, two famous war correspondents, who have recently arrived from England, is a distinguished member of the military and naval staffs of the British army, and is a man who has probably seen more fighting than any one who has ever done so.

The Rev. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the house of representatives, is a native Philadelphian and was born in 1823. He lost the sight of one eye when quite young, and the other soon became practically useless. He mastered the blind alphabet, and at the age of 20 was ordained a minister.

Some very drowsy jokers at a walk-in are made with loose, single-breasted frocks, which may be thrown back, disclosing a lining and vest of broad cloth.

An effective toque of black velvet has a coronet of jet interlaced with pink velvet ribbon, pink and black velvet rosettes, and strings of pink velvet ribbon.

The Russian coat, of cloth, lapped to the waist, with deeply rolled collar and long gauntlet cuffs of fur, is likely to be as popular this coming winter as last year.

Jackets of saffron, a variety of natural wool, topped or white, lapped, with revers of seal, and still others have caps of Persian lamb, which begin at the top of the sleeve and fall in a tube down the front below the waist.

A novel "silk" in saffron garments is a Russian circular, white fitted back and straight circular front with a wide collar. The trimming is Persian lamb, which tapers to the waist in front and at the back, then widens again to the foot.

NOVELTIES IN SILVERWARE.

The shell of a clam reproduced in silver makes a pretty butter dish.

Fans, roses and ferns worked in repoussé on the back of a silver hand mirror have a pretty effect.

A silver gilt hand mirror of recent importation has an Italian mountain scene in oil showing through a thick beveled glass on the back.

The squirrel, each engaged in gnawing at a nut, with a plain bar resting on their backs, is a silver bottle stop that possesses many attractions.

Quite elaborate and handsome is a silver shaving mug with a plain bright band encircling the top, and with the bottom chased to represent a water basket.

A silver napkin ring that is attracting much attention from those artistically inclined presents a broken kettle drum resting on a swayed gun carriage wheel.

A neat and effective silver pen dish represents the carved feather of an ostrich. At one corner of the receptacle an old appearing owl with averted head is perched.

A helmet of fifteenth century armor, hand chased, makes a beautiful ornament in silver. The pointed visor at the front, on being opened, discloses a cut glass ink stand resting in a bed of puffed silk.

Prominent silverware dealers say that bright repoussé work will soon predominate over the dull and oxidized articles of last season. Some very handsome styles in this class of ornamentation are being produced.

A useful and pretty article for the smoking table is a silver cigarette tray bearing three spirit lamps of dull finished metal. Etched on the surface of the tray is a line of music with the words, "It was my last cigar."

Mrs. McCreve—I'm sure I heard a pistol shot, and as her husband appeared—believe me—don't carry on so, Emeline. I was trying your new tomato ketchup, and a bottle burst in my face.—Judge.

A Trifle Discouraged. Captain outward bound, to passengers—are you feeling any better today, sir? Passenger discouraged—No, worse, if anything.

Captain—Oh, you'll be all right in a day or two, so don't give up the ship. Passenger—No, I'll hold on to the ship if I can, but, by thunder, captain, I've given up about everything else.—The Echo.

Rectification Demanded. Paterfamilias—Did my boy buy this while of you or did you give it to him? Clothing Dealer—I gave it to him, sir. Paterfamilias—As an advertisement, I support in order to increase your trade! Clothing Dealer (cheerfully)—Yes, sir. Paterfamilias—Very well. I shall never trade with you again.—Lowell Citizen.

This World Is but a Fleeting Show. The old adage, "Early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise," is a contemptible fraud. We have followed its precepts faithfully for thirty years, and we are no wiser. We are not feeling at all well; we are not worth a cent, and we do not know very much any way.—Lowell Citizen.

A Lucky Fellow. Ten speaking of a friend, lately deceased—Poor Browne possessed a great many good traits of character, didn't he? Joe—Yes, he did; and besides that, he was one of the luckiest men I ever knew. He got his life insured against accident and was killed the very next day. How is that for luck?—Yankee Blade.

Johnny—O, my prerogatives are chapped! Father—Why, what do you mean, Johnny? Johnny—I always thought they were until last night when I saw Mr. Thayer kissing sister in the hall, and when I asked him what he was doing, he said he was only asserting his prerogative, so—

State—Pa, will you get Johnny to bath—Bathington Free Press.

An Artist's Corner. A corner of a room may be filled in very artistically with four shelves, one above the other, the front rounded. Make the shelves just large enough to set a cup and saucer on, the next must be the largest of all, and should measure at least twelve inches on the side, made the third a little smaller, and the fourth about six inches on the side. Fasten them to the wall by brass plates so that the shelves are seen.

Grease Spots on Felt Goods. No grease spots on felt goods there are various remedies, all equally good. If only slight, place a piece of thin brown paper or brown paper, and a very hot iron, and shift the paper directly above marks of grease taking care not to let the heated paper rest on the carpet. Again, a thin layer of fuller's earth on the stain over night, and well brushed off in the morning, is very effective.

WHO WOULD BE A KING. New Senate of Europe's Crowned Head. Weirily Drag Through Life. The recent death of the king of Portugal reminds one that the emperors and kings of this earth are, taking them all round, a very unhealthy and unhappy set of people. Such a thing as a jolly monarch, with a good digestion, is scarcely to be found. The czar suffers horribly from his nerves, and is at times hypochondriacal; the emperor is as much tortured by nerves as her husband, and has long periods of intense prostration. The emperor of Austria is healthy enough, but he is a sad man, for the empress has been during the last few years a martyr to sciatica and rheumatic fever, and her mind has been affected to the extent of making her capricious, hysterical and melancholy.

She belongs to that Wittelsbach family, in whose blood there is a taint of insanity, which broke out in King Louis of Bavaria, in the present King Otto and in the late Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria. The king of Wurtemberg, too, is more than half crazy, and King Milan of Serbia must be added to the list of sovereigns when nervousness renders well nigh irresponsible for their actions. In King Milan's case, as in the czar's and the sultan's, the fear of assassination has been the main determining cause of mental disorder. The predecessors of all three were murdered, and the world does not hold three more wretched, nightmarish haunted men than the czar, the Sultan Abdul Hamid and King Milan.

The German emperor has some very Main Street.

Improving the Present. Gentleman to Uncle Rastus, wrestling with a watermelon—Aren't you afraid of cramping Uncle Rastus? Uncle Rastus contemptuously—Wot dost thou expect I can do wot I feel for wot I eat? The Echo.

Insanity Due to Flour. The organization of the Old Stone Millers' association at Detroit with the avowed purpose of educating the public mind to the dangers to health attending the use of roller flour and the superiority of old stone flour throws some doubts upon the statement that "the world do move." The association charges patent flour with being the cause of the rapid increase of insanity and kindred diseases, as well as the startling fact that the human race are fast losing their teeth and dentures are multiplying by hundreds in every part of the country. The new association has already started a healthful influence in the inquiry and investigation which the discussion of the subject will involve, even if the result should be its own discomfiture.—New York Telegram.
